25X1

On 26 September 1953, 70 to 80 motor vehicles occupied by troops carrying billowing equipment and towing guns went to the Quedlinburg freight station for entraining, coming from the Flugplatz Kaserne. [redacted]

[redacted] The freight station was cordoned off during the loading. The train presumably left during the night on 27 September.

25X1

On that day, the Flugplatz Kaserne was occupied by about 100 troops wearing black-bordered crimson epaulets.

25X1

[redacted] Comment. The units of the 597th Mtz Rifle Regt of the 207th Mtz Rifle Div were presumably entrained for exercises in the north section of Letzling Heath. According to orders by the regional railroad headquarters in Magdeburg, loadings were to take place in Quedlinburg during this period of time.
